

PLANS COMPLETE FOR CANOE CARNIVAL

Expert Guides Ready To Escort Visitors

PARADE OF BOATS STARTS 9:00 A. M. ON SAT. AND SUN.

Never before have the plans for Grayling's annual canoe carnival been quite so complete and well determined as they are for this year. Under management of a special committee appointed by the Izaak Walton League of Grayling, no stone has been left unturned for making this year's event the biggest and best this city has ever presented.

Boat owners have been generous in loaning their boats and canoes and when the time for embarkation arrives there will be available as fine a lot of this type of water craft as has ever been assembled. Each and every boat will be sound and without leaks and in every way fitted for the scenic float down the AuSable.

With the first boats dipping water at about 9:00 o'clock on Saturday and Sunday mornings, others will follow as rapidly as they may be launched. Each boat will be controlled by an experienced guide, one who knows how to handle his boat and knows the river channels.

At about noon the flotilla of boats and canoes will disembark at the place known as Burton Landing. Here the voyagers will stop long enough to straighten out their sea legs and partake of luncheon.

After these are over the flotilla will again be on its way and in early evening will land at Wakeley Bridge where autos will be waiting to take them back to Grayling.

Cost Of The Trip.

Naturally the public will want to know something about the cost of the river trip. On former occasions boats were furnished free and guides worked without charge. Boat owners also donated the use of their boats and canoes free and truck owners gathered the boats from the several owners and transferred them to Grayling and after the carnival carted them back to their respective owners. Thus everything was free. And boat handlers worked without pay. To stage the canoe carnival required a lot of real hard work and also considerable financial expense.

This year boat owners are being paid for the use of their craft, guides are paid their usual fee, truckers are being paid for hauling canoes, boat handlers are being paid for their services. Accordingly a charge of $3.00 per person is being made for the carnival trip. That charge pays for the use of the boat, guide, and for the noon lunch. The committee is hoping thus to clear the costs of the trip without having to resort to soliciting donations from the business men.

Besides the river trip there will be other attractions to keep the crowds interested. If you've never witnessed an exhibition of expert fly casting, this will be a treat to you to see some of our river guides lay out their lines and flies upon the waters of the park pond near the U. S. 27 bridge. And there will be canoe tilting contests, grease pole walking and other water sports, besides a down-town parade. And you'll get a big kick out of the races and perhaps make or lose a lot of jack betting on your favorite turtle.

Carnival Notes

The carnival committee request that all who own river boats and canoes in good condition to please notify Ernest Borchers.

Local people are requested to give up their trips, if it is possible to do so in favor of visiting guests, for the latter should be given first consideration, or at least wait to see if all guests are accommodated before they make the trip.

Local people using their own canoes and taking parties on the trip are requested to notify Ernest Borchers, chairman of the carnival committee, making reservations.

Lunch will be served at Burton Landing at about noon of each day.

The cost of the trip is $3.00, which pays for the services of the guide and boat and lunch.

The first boats will start out at 9:00 a. m. on both days—Saturday and Sunday.

The trip will be from Grayling to Wakeley bridge where cars will await voyagers for the return trip to Grayling.

Chicken dinners may be had at Uncle Tom's Cabin at Wakeley bridge if desired, at a nominal charge. Make reservations by addressing Tom Wells, Grayling, or phoning No. 65F24.

At 7:30 Saturday evening there will be water sports at the City park for which prizes will be offered for all events.

Queen Elaine (McDonnell) will be present in outing costume. These events will be followed by a parade which will terminate at the School Gymnasium where

PRE-NUPTIAL LUNCHEON GIVEN FOR MISS MARGARET HANSON

Mrs. H. W. Wolff and daughter, Mrs. Harford Kittleman of Chicago, and Mrs. Herbert Wolff of South Bend, Ind., were hostesses at a beautifully appointed luncheon Friday afternoon, given in honor of Miss Margrethe Hanson whose marriage to Harry Richard Snyder will take place on Saturday.

An exquisite arrangement of white and green was carried out in the dining room decoration as well as in the table appointments. The long lace covered table represented a miniature church wedding setting. At one end of the table a flower banked altar of white larkspur, cosmos and baby-breath was flanked by four white-tapers in front of which laid the little white satin prie-dieu pillow, and extending from this down the table was a white satin aisle on either side of which were six tiny crystal flower holders filled with white roses. With her long veil sweeping the aisle the little demure bride, leaning on the arm of the groom, had just reached the opposite end of the table and passed between two more white lighted tapers. The luncheon was served entirely on white china and crystal and the cloth used had graced the wedding table of Mr. and Mrs. Wolff.

Following the luncheon the guest of honor was kept busy unwrapping a shower of beautiful linen gifts.

Included in the guest list besides the hostesses and the honor guest were Miss Margrethe Bauman, Miss Jayne Keyport, Mrs. Harold Cluff, Miss Mary Schumann, Mrs. Henry Wilcox, of Saginaw, Mrs. Walter Woodson, Salisburys, N. C.; Mrs. Helen Routier, Detroit; Mrs. Frank Bearsch, West Branch; Mrs. Esbern Hanson, Jr., Alma; Miss Virginia Snyder, Saginaw.

135 IN COUNTY GET NRS JOBS
The National Reemployment Service found that 135 persons of Crawford county during the first six months of this year. Major Howard Starret, State Reemployment Director, reported today.

The semi-annual report of the NRS, a division of the U. S. Employment Service operated under the Department of Labor, showed private jobs were seven times what they were for the same period a year ago.

Throughout Michigan, 63,029 persons were sent to work. Only 11,113 of these persons were sent to Federal relief projects in contrast to a total of 38,665 sent a year ago.

"This simultaneous increase of private jobs and decrease of Federal jobs is due to business activity and efforts of the NRS to place people in private jobs whenever possible," Major Starret said.

Every county in the state was represented in the report on placements during the last six months. The Bay City district in which Crawford county is located was credited with 4,086 jobs through the NRS, according to Major Starret.

Many Changes In Hunting Laws

Lansing, July 31.—The average Michigan sportsman will have to "brush up" well on his hunting laws this year.

A careful review of records of the 1937 legislature by conservation authorities here has revealed so many alterations that Michigan's 1937-1938 game law digest will have to undergo almost complete revision.

Numerous changes in seasons and general regulations have been brought to light. Some of these were made by the legislature in the last-minute rush toward adjournment and were completely lost sight of by interested observers. While not all of the changes have received the governor's signature, it was expected that all eventually will become laws.

Some of the innovations and alterations in the laws which will appear in the new game law digest now being prepared are listed as follows:

Year-around protection for bald eagles and ospreys.

State regulation of private roadside zoos and wildlife exhibits.

Prohibits possession of loaded firearms in all mechanically propelled vehicles and boats.

A closed season this fall on squirrels.

Shorter season on cottontail rabbits and snowshoe hares in the lower peninsula. Season was from Oct. 15 to Jan. 31 and is now from Oct. 15 to Dec. 31.

Sets fine of $100 to $300 or imprisonment in county jail from 90 days to one year, or both, for violating laws relative to moose, elk or caribou.

Places skunk on unprotected list and subject to legal shooting year-around.

Provides for general trapping license, except for beaver and otter for which special license is necessary. Small game hunting license hereafter will not entitle licensee to any trapping privileges.

Non-residents may not trap and may not take raccoon.

Dogs running deer may be killed by officer, but not by others without criminal or civil liability. Presence of dogs in woods, etc., during deer season no longer prima facie evidence of unlawful use.

Provides for non-resident small game license fee of $15 in zone three which is that area in southern Michigan south of north line of Town 16 north and west of Saginaw bay, including all of the Thumb area, and a non-resident small game fee of $5 in all of Michigan north of the north line of Town 16 north and west of Saginaw bay.

Requires all hunters and trappers to make reports to department of conservation of number and species of game birds and animals taken in season under license. This applies to bow-and-arrow and regular deer hunters as well as small-game hunters and all trappers.

Prohibits setting of fires in marshes or other lands for purpose of driving out wild birds or animals.

Sets season on pheasants, ruffed grouse, prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse in upper peninsula from Oct. 1 to Oct. 12, inclusive in lower peninsula from Oct. 15 to Oct. 31, inclusive. Prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse still protected in zone three and pheasant shooting forbidden by commission action in upper peninsula.

No permit necessary to carry firearms by persons entering hunting areas within five days of open deer hunting season.

THERE'S A GOOD ROAD

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH
(Suggested by the hotel barber at Urchinsville, Ohio.)

THERE'S a good road north, and

And a good road east or west, There's a train at noon that'll leave here soon.

If you like the railroad best,
So when someone says that there's something wrong

With the town, the way it's run,
Then I don't see why he'd say good-by.

And go hunt for a better one

If he says back home where he used to live

That the town was simply great,
Well, I'd go back there if I had the fare.

And if not, I'd slip a freight,
Or he'd heard some town is a right good town.

That it's got this whole place beat.

Well, it can't be far if he's got a car,
If he ain't, he's got two feet.

So if someone thinks that the town's no good,

I think he's a fool to stay.

If he don't like what this here town has got,

Then here's all I got to say:

"There ain't a man that'll hold you here

If you like some new place best;
North or south of town not a bridge is down.

There's a good road east or west."

CCC Big Aid To State Forest Nursery

The expansion, development and operation of the Higgins Lake State Forest nursery during the past four years has been accomplished almost exclusively with CCC labor and CCC funds, both expended under the direction of nursery superintendent Ed. Zettle. The nursery is an important unit in the forest re-production and conservation program of Michigan.

Since CCC Camp Higgins Lake was established here in May, 1933, enrollees of the camp have expended more than 35,000 man-days of labor at the nursery, according to a recent report of project superintendent Andrew K. Braidwood of the camp.

In addition to routine operations of spading, grubbing, weeding and other activities, the CCC boys this year have lifted, counted and packed for distribution approximately 6,500,000 pine seedlings, of which nearly half were planted by other CCC boys in Upper Peninsula camps in the Mackinac and Lake Superior State Forests.

The boys have also seeded four acres of nursery plots in pine, spruce and cedar, transplanted 96,000 two year old white pine and 40,000 two year old Norway pine seedlings for further development, and extended the overhead sprinkling system to an additional six acres.

The Higgins Lake State Forest Nursery is administered by the State Department of Conservation, and provides seedlings for planting on state lands, as well as growing seedlings for limited private sale.

CREATIVE ability is one of Destiny's most valuable gifts.

The skilled and helpfully minded palmist may often stimulate latent creative ability to constructive activities along worthwhile lines which the fortunate possessor has been indolent in following. Analyze the third finger with a view to explaining, broadly at least, the possible outlets for the creative urge as indicated by its conformation as a type.

The Psychic Finger of Brilliance. Here is a type of third finger which, unless your analysis is made with thoroughness, may be confused with the Inventive type discussed in Lesson 38. The reason for this is that it leans toward the fourth finger much after the fashion of the Inventive type. In the Psychic Finger of Brilliance this characteristic is far more pronounced, however, and with the hand extended wide, the entire finger is found to lie much closer to the fourth finger. The Psychic type of third finger, despite its tilt toward the fourth finger, is usually quite straight. Its length is marked, and its tip is always even with and sometimes well above the tip of the second finger. The entire finger is rather bony in structure, with knuckles somewhat knobby and the spaces between them bound in or "corseted." The nail is usually long and somewhat pear-shaped, and is always well set. Under backward pressure, a peculiar resilient tension is felt.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

HOW OL' MISTAH BUZZARD WARMS HIS TOES

OFTEN and often had Peter Rabbit wondered how Ol' Mistah Buzzard and all his other feathered friends who had down away to the far away South at the first hint that Jack Frost was on his way to the Green Meadows spent the long winter. It seemed to Peter that the South must be a very wonderful and very strange place. He was not at all sure that he would like it. It must be very nice not to have to worry about finding enough to eat, and yet—well, Peter did have lots of fun in the snow. It seemed to him that all those little people who went away certainly missed a great deal. Now, Winsome Bluebird had returned from that far away South with the good news that "Mistah Spring was not far behind, and Winsome had promised to tell him all the news of Ol' Mistah Buzzard and the other friends.

"You see," began Winsome, "Ol' Mistah Buzzard was born and brought up in the South, where it is always warm, and he just can't stand cold weather. No, sir, he can't stand cold weather. Why, weather that you and I would call comfortable will make him shiver and shake. That is why he wasn't ready to come up with me. Now, I come ahead of Mistah Spring, but Ol' Mistah Buzzard won't start until he is sure that Mistah Spring has been here some time, and he will be sure not to have cold feet."

"Cold feet!" cried Peter. "Who ever heard of such a thing? Why, I run around on the snow and ice all winter long and I never have cold feet."

"Well, Ol' Mistah Buzzard does," replied Winsome Bluebird. "Yes, sir, he is always complaining about cold feet. You know, he hasn't any shoes or stockings like you, Peter, so between his bare feet and his bald head he has, or thinks he has, a great deal to worry about every time there is a cool day, and they sometimes have cool days even way down South. Then you will always find Ol' Mistah Buzzard warming his toes."

Peter scratched his head in a funny way. "If you please, Winsome, how does he warm his toes?" asked Peter. "I never see him warming his toes when he is up here. He's always sailing round and round way up in the blue, blue sky or else sitting on a dead tree in the Green Forest. I've never heard him complain of cold feet or seen him try to warm his toes."

"Of course, you haven't!" replied Winsome. "He doesn't have cold feet then, because it's summer time. It's just as you say, if you don't see him up in the blue, blue sky you are sure to find him on that old dead tree. But down South it is different. If you want to see him there and he isn't way up in the blue, blue sky trying to get nearer to Mr. Sun so as to warm his bald head, why you just look for him on a toe-warmer."

Peter's eyes seemed to fairly pop out with curiosity. "What's a toe-warmer?" he demanded. "I never heard of such a thing. What does it look like?"

Winsome Bluebird chuckled softly. "Have you ever been up by Farmer Brown's house?" he asked. Peter nodded.

"Then you've seen that thing on the roof out of which smoke sometimes comes," continued Winsome. Again Peter nodded. "Well," continued Winsome, "if Farmer Brown's house was down South that thing out of which smoke comes would be one of Ol' Mistah Buzzard's toe-warmers."

Peter looked sharply at Winsome to see if he really meant what he said. "Doesn't anybody live in those houses down South?" he asked suspiciously.

"Of course," replied Winsome. "If they didn't how could Mistah Buzzard warm his toes?"

"And he isn't afraid?" persisted Peter, as if it was very hard to believe.

"Afraid!" cried Winsome. "Why, he hasn't anything to be afraid of. Mr. Buzzard is thought a great deal of, a very great deal of, in the South, and no one would hurt him for the world. So every house has a toe-warmer for him, which is very nice for him. And you won't see him back here until it is so warm that he forgets all about cold feet," concluded Winsome Bluebird. © T. W. It was an unusual experience that was had at Camp Kalkaska last Friday when a new enrollee, Burton Bachelor, age 16, of Chicago, refused to permit immunizing shots and when it came time to be fingerprinted he rushed out of the camp and escaped. Efforts to locate him were unsuccessful. It is believed he is on his way to Chicago. A rumor is current that his real name is Nicholas Burton and is wanted in New York City for murder, which would possibly account for his refusal to be fingerprinted. The charge, however, is given little credence.

Two fish on one bait is what Jappe Smith says happened to him. Fishing with a long bamboo pole a large pike struck the bait and immediately started on a beeline for the boat, faster than the line could be hauled in. With mouth and gills open the bait apparently slipped out thru the gills and was trailing behind. Before landing the 25 inch pike, another smaller pike took the bait, and both were hauled into the boat. If anyone but Jappe were to tell such a story we might discredit it. Anyway, here's one for Ripley.

LANSING—By setting his own policy out of his hat, "He settled the strikes without loss of one life." Scarehead banners from newspapers in Illinois and Ohio will be displayed to prove the point.

More and more it becomes clear that Murphy's decisions on state legislative matters should be interpreted in the light of 1941. Even passage of a civil service bill would be immediately followed—unless our guess is badly wrong—by speaking engagements of Governor Murphy

in other states.

Good Crops, Good Times

Better times are ahead for Michigan farmers according to the state department of agriculture.

Prospects of a good wheat crop are the best since 1933, and the acreage is the largest since 1922.

The potato crop will be the fifth largest in history. Frequent rains and moderate temperatures have produced splendid fruit yields.

Here are the percentage increases for 1937 in comparison with last year: Apples, 50 per cent; peaches, 65 per cent; plums,

45 per cent; cherries, 34 per cent; grapes, 65 per cent. The entire crop is the largest on record, and consumer prices are going to be high.

At a time when all food prices are considerably above those of one year ago, Michigan's harvest augurs well for happier days on the farm. And when the farmer has money in his pocket, Michigan's Main Street hums with prosperity.

Babson's Forecast

The financial sage of Babson

Park, Massachusetts, tells us that America's crop prospects are the best in ten years while our purchasing power is the highest since 1929. Adjournment of congress would give business a much-needed "breathing spell," he says.
